Sacred Geometry

Presented by Laurie Thorp, Deborah Noeker, and Craig Kay

Sacred Geometry, Healing, and the Mystic Spiral: This is an experiential HMD, in which we will explore how Sacred Geometry shows up in the physical body and in the Human Energy Field. We will look at ways to use sacred geometrical forms to deepen your healing practice. We will play with Sacred Spinning and Hooping to experience the ways that we can access the flow within the structure of the sacred geometric forms. We will also include a Merkaba Meditation to expand the field of the Heart.

Laurie Thorp is a healer, artist, and teacher who is devoted to the evolution of the human spirit. She has been exploring and integrating essential processes of energy healing, self-awareness, and embodied awakening for more than thirty years. Healing, teaching, dancing, meditating, and hooping are doorways into her spiritual practice. She is passionate about the potential within the human body and is committed to fully living life—from an embodied and authentic place. Laurie teaches healing workshops internationally and has been on the faculty at BBSH since 1998.

Deborah Noeker is a Registered Nurse, a health educator for over 38 years, a BBSH Small Class Teacher for 15 years, and the BBSH Anatomy & Physiology I teacher for the past 12 years.

Craig Kay is a student and teacher of metaphysics and spiritual development. His interests involve states of being and how to access, navigate, and exit them for healing, manifestation, and insight. He is a graduate, teacher, and former Class Dean at the Barbara Brennan School of Healing, and is currently a senior faculty member in the Year 3 program. He has been associated with the school for over thirty years and is a strong advocate of the foundational training that BBSH provides. Craig weaves the deep resources of artistic expression throughout his teaching. He was director of The Center for the Whole Person on Nantucket for fifteen years. He is cofounder of Radiant Oneness, a contemporary mystery school in Sedona. Craig has had a long experience with addictions, personally and professionally, and views them as an important potential tool in spiritual development.
